LADIES CONFERENCE

Cathy Turner was born in Hendersonville, North Carolina, which means that she is a mountain girl. She graduated from the University of Tennessee with a Bachelor of Science in Business Management/Recreation Administration. She and her husband Kevin worship at the Wood Avenue Church of Christ in Florence, AL where Kevin serves as an elder. She has spoken at girls' and ladies' days, retreats and chapels in Alabama, North Carolina, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, and Virginia. In Florence, Cathy writes a column in The Courier Journal, which is a free publication that is mailed to over 70, 000 homes in North Alabama. Her biweekly column is entitled, "Cat and Kids". It features stories about family, raising children and reminiscing of family days gone by. Cathy thoroughly enjoys speaking and encouraging people to break open the Good Book.
